Dalmatinac Red Wine

Dalmatinac Red Wine

Croatia

Dalmatinac red wine is produced of the grape sorts Plavina, Plavak and other sorts from the regions of the north Dalmatia, Dalmatian island and the Central and South Dalmatia. It is made in the vineyard Dalmacijavino *.

Dalmatinac red wine has ruby-red color with the aroma typical for the grape sort of Plavina and a harmonious flavor.

Dalmatinac is a typical Dalmatian wine traditionally transported in wooden barrels. It is served with fish brodettos and fried fish, lightly cooled in summer. It contains 11.5 – 12% vol. of alcohol.

Dalmatinac (Red) is available in cases of 12 x 1 liter bottles.

* Dalmacijavino has placed its products on almost all seven continents. The quality of its products is proved by more than 200 medals won at international exhibitions and fairs in the country and abroad. Dalmacijavino recommends its noble wines "the potion of gods" – as ancient Hellenes used to call it. The Dalmatian wines belong to the best wines because of plenty of sunshine and rocky soils (limestone and red earth-terra rossa).
